Aid Agency Report

Adventist Development and Relief Agency

Last Updated: February 20, 2007

ADRA Thailand carries out projects in communities in Phang Nga and adjacent provinces that were affected by the tsunami disaster, with the aim of providing support in three areas:

1. Household Recovery – including grants in support of recovery, student support, cooperatives support, revolving loan funds for economic activity, vocational training and boat replacement
2. Community Recovery – including repair and construction of community infrastructure such as electricity and water supply systems.
3. Health and Psychosocial Support – three mobile units travelling to affected communities to provide support, as follows:
 - a) Medical Unit
 - b) Adult Psychosocial Unit
 - c) Child Psychosocial Unit
4. Adventure learning program for adolescents providing an opportunity to strengthen self-confidence, community spirit, decision making, problem-solving and other needed life skills.
